SINU Kukum/Ranadi ends awareness on 2nd 2014 Draft Federal Constitution

The awareness on the 2nd 2014 Draft Federal Constitution of Solomon Islands for the Solomon Islands National University (SINU) students and staff of schools based in Kukum and Ranadi campuses has ended on Friday 18 March 2016.

Constitutional Reform Unit's (CRU) Consultant Lawyer Mr. Reginald Teutao in closing, thanked the staff and students for their patience with the team to completely go through the entire draft.

It was an intensive week for CRU completing the awareness with the PSs, USs and senior government officials during the day and SINU Kukum/Ranadi institution by the evening at the Kukum Lecture Theatre.

Mr. Teutao reiterated that he is extremely pleased with their contributions in this awareness and felt encouraged by their attendance amidst their busy schedules as university students and staff.

Those that attended were from School of Nursing and Applied Health Sciences; School of Business and Management; School of Technology and Maritime Studies; School of Natural Resources and Applied Sciences; and School of Carpentry and Trade.

About forty out of fifty staff and students of SINU at Kukum and Ranadi campuses ended the awareness successfully, which began on Monday 14 March 2016.

CRU staff and Constitutional Congress members completed this awareness with SINU Kukum/Ranadi Awareness activity on Friday night. This is part of the awareness consultations with Solomon Islands' main tertiary institutions and academics.
